COLUMBIA YET CHARGES TEDDY R. MAY MILLER SORE, REFUSES GARDNER LOOSEN UP IN STATES TO SEE KNOX CHANGED OHIO ADDRESS MODE OF WILLS

Minister From Colombia Objects to Secretary's Visit.

SAYS HIS COUNTRY IGNORED

Acting Secretary of State Receives Caustic Note From Senor Pedro Nel Ospina, In Which Attention Is Called to Fact That His Request That United States Arbitrate Colombia-Panama Boundary Dispute Has Been Pigeonholed.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Senor Pedro Nel Ospina, diplomatic representative of the Colombian government in this city, has at the outset spoiled the trip of Secretary of State Knox to Central and South American republics for the purpose of developing friendly and cordial relations. The minister has advised Acting Secretary of State Wilson that Secretary Knox's proposed visit to Colombia is "inopportune," which is the diplomatic method of saying that Mr. Knox is not wanted in Colombia. The minister explained, however, that he was acting on his own initiative in making this suggestion, and will ask his government for definite instructions. He based his action on the failure of the state department to make a reply to a diplomatic note which he submitted to the state department about three months ago, protesting the arbitration of the Panama question between the United States and Colombia. The principal question in dispute between the two governments relates to the boundary line between Colombia and Panama, which has been unsettled since the secession of Panama from Colombia in 1903.

Serious Break Threatened. In view of the Colombian minister's note Secretary Knox probably will abandon his proposed visit to Colombia. If the Colombian government upholds the stand taken by its minister here it will create a serious situation between the two governments, which may result in the breaking off of diplomatic relations. If the Colombian government, however, repudiates the action of its minister, it will not remove entirely the embarrassment created by the publication of the minister's note.

While officials of the state department declined publicly to comment on the note, they say that Mr. Knox probably will not visit Colombia as a result of the untoward incident.

CRUISER FOR KNOX

Secretary of State Will Tour Latin Republics in Style.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 19.—The United States armored cruiser Washington left the navy yard here this morning for Palm Beach, where Secretary Knox and his family will be taken aboard for his official tour of the Caribbean and Central American republics. Several newspaper men and Captain Powell Clayton, military aide to Secretary Knox, are on board. The rest of the party will be taken on at Palm Beach next Thursday. According to the present rumors, Secretary Knox will visit Mexico. Should conditions in Mexico, however, become so disturbed as to make it seem inadvisable for Mr. Knox to visit that country in his official capacity, the call there will be omitted.

Nurse Tells of Plot to Defraud Aged Millionaire.

IMPLICATES FORMER SENATOR

George H. Decker, Under Arrest at New York, Breaks Down When Sweated and Relates Story of Midnight Visits by One-Time Member of New York Legislature to Home of Samuel E. Haslett—New Testament Made Gardner Executor.

New York, Feb. 19.—Frank J. Gardner, former state senator, who was arrested charged with conspiracy with a trained nurse to defraud Samuel E. Haslett, a rich eccentric, who is now very ill in his home in Brooklyn, was held in $3,000 bail by Chief Magistrate Kemper in the Adams street police court.

Brooklyn detectives are engaged in running down events which have been narrated to them in what they call a confession from George H. Decker, the trained nurse who is held with Gardner, both on the charge of conspiring to defraud Haslett out of his property, which is valued at more than $1,000,000.

After Decker was put under arrest he broke down and made a statement, which details any criminal intent, but admits that he brought Former Senator Gardner into the case and tells the story of the will. He said there were two wills. Gardner had decided that the first was invalid because a bequest had been made to a dead relative, and the next night Gardner came with another will all prepared. In this second will, according to Decker's sworn statement, provision was made for another nurse and a doctor, who were to get $5,000 each, and to several relatives, who were to get $15,000.

Decker's understanding of the will is that Gardner was executor and residuary legatee, and that he himself would be taken care of by Gardner out of the residue. This was signed and witnessed on Thursday night after Gardner had made several midnight visits to the house.

Kills Son Terrible Act Of Farmer

Farmer Says He Was Trying to Settle Quarrel Among Children.

Springfield, O., Feb. 19.—"Go on and shoot, I ain't scared of you," challenged Frank Grose, 7, of near South Charleston, when his father threatened him while he was quarreling with several of his little brothers in a woodpile. The father, S. W. Grose, a farmer, 40, pulled the hammer of his shotgun and in an instant the shot rang out. The load struck the front of the lad's neck, almost severing the head. He died instantly.

Grose said the shooting was accidental and that he was trying only to scare the boy. Coroner Austin pronounced the shooting accidental.

Five Killed In Wreck.

Larwill, Ind., Feb. 19.—Five railroad employees were killed and 11 injured when Pennsylvania Limited train No. 5 dashed into a work train during a dense fog. None of the passengers on the Limited were injured.

Shot by Companion.

Newark, O., Feb. 19.—Asa Williams, 16, was seriously wounded by the accidental discharge of a revolver in the hands of Joseph Delay, a companion. The bullet entered the back near the spine.

Roosevelt Expected to Declare Himself at Columbus.

WILL THEN REPLY TO GOVERNORS

After Return to East Colonel Will Attend Meeting of Harvard Overseers and May Accept Invitations to Speak at Several Points in Massachusetts—Laughs Heartily When He Reads Stories That He Is to Throw Influence to Garfield.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Feb. 19.—In preparation for the hard week ahead of him, in which he will for the first time since his candidacy was announced by his friends enter the lists in person, Colonel Roosevelt took a rest. Tomorrow he starts for Columbus, where on Wednesday he will present to the Ohio constitutional convention the platform of the progressives on which he will stand if nominated. He returns to New York on Thursday, and after a day's rest leaves for Boston, ostensibly to attend a meeting of the overseers of Harvard university. He will not return to New York until the following Wednesday, and in the meantime he may accept some of the many invitations he has had to make speeches in Massachusetts.

But before Colonel Roosevelt goes to Boston he will reply to the communication addressed to him by eight governors calling upon him to define his position as a candidate for the presidential nomination. Although the willingness of Mr. Roosevelt to accept the presidential nomination has long since been a matter of common knowledge, his political friends and foes alike await his letter to the so-called governors' conference with interest.

Had No Political Visitors.

He had no political visitors at Sagamore Hill, but there was plenty in the day's news from public and private sources to interest him. He laughed heartily over a report that he was to back James Garfield, the former "tennis cabinet" member of the cabinet, for the presidential nomination.

"First they said I was for Pinchot," ejaculated the colonel, between chuckles, "and now it's Garfield. Do they think I'll accept Ballinger as a compromise candidate?" But it was the political situation in the south that had Colonel Roosevelt's attention. It was apparent to those who talked with him that the question whether the southern office-holding delegates will remain loyal to Taft or go over to Roosevelt, is one that is uppermost in the colonel's mind just now. He was greatly pleased with the news from Texas that Cecil Lyon, chairman of the Republican state committee down there, is fighting for an uninstructed delegation to the Chicago convention.

Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Ethel Roosevelt sail for Panama on Saturday for an extended visit, leaving Colonel Roosevelt footloose during what is looked upon as the critical weeks of his presidential boom.

Hartley Makes Denial

Says Catholic Church Is Not Back of Woman Suffrage Movement.

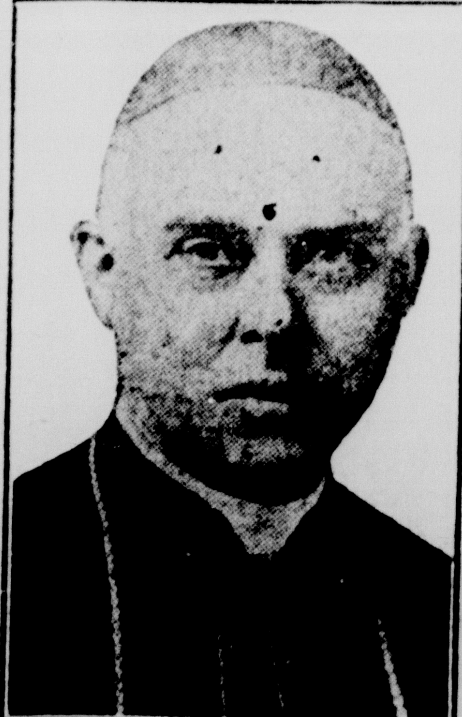

Columbus, O., Feb. 19.—Replying to a rumor which reached him a few days ago that the Catholic church is behind the movement for equal suffrage, Bishop James J. Hartley gave out a statement in which he refuted the charge and pointed out that, in his opinion, the mission of woman is in her own home, where he says she can "do more for the nation by building up character and training conscience than the greatest political leader that was ever born."

Irwin Taken Into Custody.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—John W. Irwin, former recording secretary of the Peoria, Ill., local structural iron workers, and one of the most widely sought labor men indicted by the Indianapolis federal grand jury in the dynamite plots, was arrested by the United States authorities.

BISHOP HARTLEY

Columbus Prelate Denies Catholics Boost Equal Suffrage.

Faces Court Martial

Lieutenant Protege of President Taft Accused of Scrapping.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Feb. 19.—Second Lieutenant Frank M. Bloom of Battery F, Fourth Field artillery, is reported to be slated for courtmartial at Fort D. A. Russell for an alleged physical encounter with a noncommissioned officer.

A national interest is given to the case against Bloom by the fact that he is the officer in regard to whom President Taft issued a statement that a man's racial and social attributes should not bar him from service as a commissioned officer in the army. At the time Bloom, who is a son of the post tailor at Fort Myer, Va., and of Jewish blood, became eligible to appointment to a second lieutenancy, Colonel Gerard, commanding at Fort Myer, refused to consider his promotion on the ground that he was "unfit" for service as a commissioned officer. It was this attitude by Gerard that brought out Taft's denunciation of prejudice in the army against a man because of his racial characteristics and social status. Mr. Taft promptly appointed Bloom a second lieutenant.

French Count Held

Sanity Will Be Probed as Result of Peculiar Actions.

New York, Feb. 19.—The tall, military-appearing man who breezed into police headquarters and asked for possession and the French consul, was taken to Bellevue from the Park Avenue hotel for observation. He had been registered at the hotel since Oct. 13 last, when he signed himself Compe Yvon de la Motte, Paris. Dr. Holbrook H. Curtiss, who accompanied the count to Bellevue, explained that he had met the Frenchman in Paris last summer. His title of count was genuine.

Will Use Dictagraph Notes Against Ironworkers.

Indianapolis, Feb. 19.—Three kinds of evidence, it was learned, are being prepared by the government for its prosecution of the 54 men indicted in the dynamite conspiracy.

It was stated by District Attorney Charles W. Miller that all this evidence is to be corroborated by witnesses whose names are already known. The evidence chiefly is:

About 40,000 letters and telegrams taken from the headquarters here of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, which, according to charges in the indictments, show that President Frank M. Ryan, Secretary-Treasurer Herbert S. Hockin and executive board members corresponded for six years with business agents of local unions about jobs to be blown up.

Stenographic records of a telephonic apparatus which the government had connected with Ryan's headquarters for more than three months and through which it is asserted conversations of the iron workers' officials about the dynamite conspiracy were overheard and transcribed.

Ottie E. McManigal's confession covering his experiences as a dynamite employee by J. J. McNamara from June, 1907, to his arrest last April.

Now Taking Up Both Reports

Senators May Prolong Debate on Stephenson Investigation.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Congress got down to business today when the senate took up the majority and minority reports on the investigation of the election of Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin and the Dillingham general immigration bill. Senator Lodge and his committee colleagues intend to press the latter to early passage. Either measure may bring out a prolonged debate.

The house took up the consideration of the chemical tariff revision bill, which is expected to pass this afternoon.

Folke E. Brandt Fights a Thirty Year Burglary Sentence

WHAT promises to become a "celebrated case" is that of Folke E. Brandt, a young Swede, who a few weeks ago had never been heard of by the public outside of New York city and had for the most part been forgotten there. He had been a servant in the house of Mortimer L. Schiff, a wealthy New York banker, and four years ago was sentenced to thirty years hard labor for burglary in the first degree, to which he pleaded guilty before Judge Rosalsky. The offense was committed in the house of his former employer, whom he is also said to have assaulted. Brandt, who was under age when he was arrested, alleges through his attorney that he was allowed by the presiding judge to plead guilty to a crime which, according to the evidence heard in the case, he did not commit. Strenuous efforts have recently been made to have his sentence commuted or to have a new trial granted, and as a preliminary he was released from Daner prison on a writ of habeas corpus and brought to New York to appear in the court proceedings instituted in his behalf. Judge Rosalsky has permitted him to withdraw his plea of "guilty" and to enter one of "not guilty."

Stutson's Store Reopened Splendidly Stocked New Spring Merchandise

Once more the department store of Mr. Frank L. Stutson, a prominent factor in Washington's business life for over a quarter of a century, is thrown open to the public.

It is not quite two months since the awful fire which devastated in a few hours one of the most beautiful and largest stores in southern Ohio and threatened to deprive our city of one of its big drawing cards to shoppers from a wide radius of territory.

To the gratification of the entire community Mr. Stutson decided to open a temporary store in the corner room of the I. O. O. F. Temple until the rebuilding of the Maconic Temple will give to him his former magnificent store room, and the temporary store was opened this morning, Monday, the 19th of February, 1912.

Of course the present store is not the immense department store of the past, being but a quarter of its former size, but is well lighted and attractive in its location and the stocks are there even if there is not the same room for display.

The various departments are splendidly equipped in spring stocks and with the high class hues that have always been a specialty of the Stutson store. If possible more than the usual care has been given to the present selection and the fact that everything is absolutely new and of the most advanced showing, makes the merchandise doubly attractive.

No more beautiful lines have ever been displayed in white goods, wash fabrics and embroideries.

With each express new goods are arriving, especially for the ready-to-wear and dress goods departments, which are receiving the latest outputs from the manufacturers.

Notwithstanding the rainy day a large number visited the new store today and expressed their pleasure over Mr. Stutson's re-opening with much enthusiasm.

McCoy Falls And Breaks His Leg

Calvin McCoy, a resident of Oak and Main streets, Sunnyside, met with a misfortune Sunday morning that will lay him up for several weeks.

Mr. McCoy was engaged in delivering morning papers and was in the act of leaving the premises of Mr. Robert Howatt on W. Court street, when he slipped on the ice and fell heavily to the ground, breaking both bones of his left leg just above the ankle.

Assistance was promptly summoned and the sufferer was removed to the office of Dr. Brock. After the injuries were attended to Mr. McCoy was removed to his home.

Mr. McCoy is a man of poor circumstances and the loss of his time will undoubtedly result in a hardship. His wife has been in ill health for some time, requiring the services of a physician. Mr. McCoy has served as janitor for one of the local banks for a year or more.

Mrs. Austin's famous pancakes make a really delicious wholesome breakfast.

Thief Swipes Patrolman's Gun

Patrolman Robert Cogswell is mourning the loss of a fine automatic shooting iron, which disappeared Saturday evening in the lavatory at the Court House.

The patrolman had lain the savage looking gun down for a few moments and some one promptly swiped the instrument and has since appropriated it to his own use. The culprit made his departure in advance of Mr. Cogswell, who feels pretty certain that he knows the thief. The party can save himself trouble by sending the gun back to the mayor's office instanter.

BODY IS BAROMETER

Speculations Regarding Effects of Surroundings Upon Man.

German Professor's Paper, Entitled "The Geopsychic Phenomena," Has Made Great Stir in European Scientific Circles.

Berlin.—Prof. W. Hellpach, of Karlsruhe, has published the results of the first all-round inquiry ever made into the problem: "How far are the brain and temperament of man dependent upon natural surroundings?"

His report, entitled "The Geopsychic Phenomena," has made a great stir in scientific circles, owing to the bold theses of the professor, who depletes humanity as a mere vitalized barometer, which reacts incessantly to the stimulus of external forces, but has little independent control over its own movements.

Landscape, says Hellpach, is of infinitely greater importance than climate in forming national character. The idea that climate is more important is a delusion. "In the United States the fantastic mountain world of the great west will in time create a different and much more imaginative race than that which exists in the level east and south. At present America's population is too much in a state of flux to allow of this difference being determined, but the change is going on." America will thus in the future have two populations of entirely different psychical inclinations and characteristics.

Professor Hellpach gives a whole series of facts to show man in his capacity as barometer. His activities depend upon weather fluctuations.

Prof. W. Hellpach.

There live peculiarly sensitive "Wettermänner" (weather men), whose whole nervous system is affected by thunderstorms. On these tea, coffee and tobacco, taken during a thunderstorm, act with extraordinary force, and the most moderate dose of alcohol, which in clear weather would have no effect, produces violent agitation, and even temporary paralysis.

A second type of weather man is the "snow man," well known to nerve specialists. Shortly before a snowfall their eating, feeding and sleeping are entirely deranged; and they are thus able to predict a snowfall more surely than can a meteorologist with all his instruments. "Snow men" are rarer than "thunderstorm men." Both quickly recover from the weather effects, and even feel better than they did before.

In addition to weather, man reacts to an enormous number of external stimuli, some of which are far off, intangible and even concealed from the senses. Light has precisely the same attractive effect on men as it has on insects. The word "moonstruck" is not a figure of speech, but a reality. Moonlight has a marked effect upon sleepers, and is the main cause of somnambulism. The changes of the moon produce precise organic effects upon certain lower animals, and man is also liable to be moonstruck.

Water, though, at a distance and invisible, affects the nervous system and makes some men conscious of its effects. Hence the "divining-rod" is a reality. The underground water really does cause nervous twitches of the water-seeker's hands, and this sets the rod oscillating. In the same way diviners of hidden coal, ore and other mineral treasures are quite honest. "It is established that there exist sensitive men, whose psychical condition is affected by the composition of the soil underneath, though of this composition they have no knowledge." And even astrology has a basis of truth. The changes of the earth in its relation to the constellations involve changes of gravitation "which causes nervous disturbances and thus operate on the brain." In a scientific sense no man is therefore independent of the stars and planets.

Stutson's Store Reopened

Splendidly Stocked

New Spring Merchandise

Once more the department store of Mr. Frank L. Stutson, a prominent factor in Washington's business life for over a quarter of a century, is thrown open to the public.

It is not quite two months since the awful fire which devastated in a few hours one of the most beautiful and largest stores in southern Ohio and threatened to deprive our city of one of its big drawing cards to shoppers from a wide radius of territory.

To the gratification of the entire community Mr. Stutson decided to open a temporary store in the corner room of the I. O. O. F. Temple until the rebuilding of the Maconic Temple will give to him his former magnificent store room, and the temporary store was opened this morning, Monday, the 19th of February, 1912.

Of course the present store is not the immense department store of the past, being but a quarter of its former size, but is well lighted and attractive in its location and the stocks are there even if there is not the same room for display.

VEGETABLES FACTOR IN SPREAD OF TYPHOID.

The possibility of the conveyance of typhoid germs by means of vegetables and fruits has long been suspected, and as a result of studies in recent years, evidence has been collected that such foodstuffs play an important part in the transmission of typhoid infection. Typhoid fever is a rural disease; typhoid fever patients are frequently found on farms where green vegetables are cultivated for market; and, in some localities at least, the practice is prevalent of using human excreta as fertilizer to force the growth of vegetables that are intended to be eaten raw.

To determine the factors responsible for the spread of typhoid fever, it is highly important to determine how long the typhoid germ can live under natural conditions. In recent years a number of investigators, working under different conditions, have recovered this organism from previously contaminated soil after varying periods up to fifty days, and Mair regained the organism after eighty-four days from soil inclosed by glass and moisture added. Since the longevity of the typhoid bacillus in unsterilized water ranges from seven to thirty days, it would seem that the soil might serve as a reservoir of infection to the stream which drains it.

The latest work on this subject is reported by Creel, who conducted experiments both within doors and in the open air, with exposure to rain and sunlight. The typhoid organism was carried up from the soil by the growing plants, and on repeated examination the organisms were recovered from the leaves and stems up to thirty-one days. A leaf of lettuce from an infected bed yielded positive cultures after three washings, thus indicating that rainfall will not free vegetables from infected material. These results have practical significance in view of the insanitary conditions on many farms. The demand for fresh vegetables being so great and the means of transportation so rapid, vegetables grown in one section may be shipped great distances and used by large numbers of persons. There is danger of the transmission of typhoid fever by this means. Medical authorities think that the inspection of truck farms would be advisable, and permits for the cultivation of vegetables for public sale might properly be withheld from all farms on which improper methods of fertilizing are practiced.

A NEW LEAF.

Whereas, Public sentiment, manifested in community co-operation, is an invincible force;

Whereas, Individual indifference forbids healthy public sentiment and when in control depresses and stifles;

Whereas, The community is the body of which individual citizens are members and the body can not be strong if the members be atrophied; and

Whereas, Without action life is impossible, death inevitably ensuing; therefore be it

Resolved, That, throughout this year, I shall believe in my fellow townsmen and have faith in my community and shall make known my belief and faith in season and out of season by all my public and private acts and utterances;

Whereas, All that I have and all that I can hope for in a material, moral and social way, are inseparably united with my community's fate; be it further and finally

Resolved, That I shall supplement my faith in my fellows and my belief in my community by giving freely of my time and my money in promoting my community's—therefore my own—interests.

There are husbands and husbands. And, like any other plant in the universe, each one thrives as his particular nature responds to his environment. "The well-fed man—" speaking in the broader sense of the term, or the comfortable man, is a mere hothouse plant that blooms and looks pleasant amid the warmth and beauty of a conservatory, and when set in the open degenerates into only a suggestion of its former bloom.

Let me hunt for the wind berries that hold their heads above the snow; the blossoms that brave the winds and storms and which same may be transported into unwonted luxury with no loss of hardihood. Just such a nature I would seek in the man I marry.

A man who has struggled through vicissitudes, having lost no whit of his smiling nature, who is strong enough to brave any storm of misfortune, keeping ever the beauty of his nature beyond destruction, who has attained a measure of success and who can live in it with no sacrifice of the virility of his manhood.

With such a man marriage would be contentment, and contentment is happiness.

Poetry-Today

TODAY.

Sure, this world is full of trouble—
I ain't said it ain't.
Lord! I've had enough, an' double,
Reason for complaint.
Rain an' storm have come to fret me.
Skies were often gray;
Thorns an' brambles have beset me
On the road—but, say,
Ain't it fine today!

What's the use of always weepin'
Makin' trouble last?
What's the use of always keepin'
Thinkin' of the past?
Each must have his tribulation.
Water with his wine
Life it ain't no celebration.
Trouble? I've had mine—
But today is fine.

It's today that I am livin';
Not a month ago,
Havin' been, takin', givin',
As time wills it so.
Yesterday a cloud of sorrow
Fell across the way.
It may rain again tomorrow.
It may rain—but, say,
Ain't it fine today!

—Douglas Malloch

Washington, Feb. 19.—Investigation of the war department as an outgrowth of the differences between the secretary of war and General Wood on one side and former Adjutant General Ainsworth on the other, which culminated in the latter's retirement after a threatened court-martial, now practically is assured. ### LOST SLEEP TEN YEARS.

Any one who knows Mr. B. F. SUGG, of Tyler, N. C., will tell you that he speaks nothing but the truth.

Mr. Sugg has suffered greatly from sleeplessness and in a recent letter says: "For ten years I have suffered greatly from a nervous ailment which caused me to lose at least three hours of needed sleep every night."

"I tried everything I could find to get relief, and finally one bottle of Vinol gave me more relief than all other remedies. I am grateful to Vinol for my present good health."

Many persons who are in a nervous, run-down condition get so they cannot sleep, and this is almost certain to wreck their health unless the right steps are taken.

Our delicious cod liver and iron remedy without oil, Vinol, builds up the body and nourishes the nerves with pure, rich blood, and makes it possible to get natural, restful sleep. We guarantee that Vinol will do you good (money back if it fails), and if you are weak, nervous and sleepless, you certainly should try Vinol.—Blackmer & Tanquary, Druggists, Washington, C. H., O.

AGAIN!

Tona Vita Builds Up Run-Down People

PHYSICIANS HAVE GREAT SUCCESS WITH TONIC IN THIS COUNTRY.

When people of wealth become debilitated and run down in health they go to high priced sanitariums and health resorts to be built up again. But what about the thousands of debilitated nervous men and women with no vitality or ambition who have neither the time nor money to spare for such luxuries as sanitariums? If you are in this miserable condition read with care the following statement by M. F. Mann, living at 53 Good avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I have had indigestion and been all run down for ten years. I could not eat anything at times and was always constipated. My nerves were out of order and I had bad headaches. I believed I had kidney trouble, too, as I had dull pains in my back much of the time. I was easily excited and often when I could not eat and had a nervous attack I would suffer severe dizzy spells.

"I heard so much about the new tonic, 'Tona Vita' that I decided to give it a trial and I feel like a different man. I am strong in every way. I sleep well, can eat anything and my nerves are as steady as can be. I have gained four pounds in the last ten days. I believe 'Tona Vita' is the best medicine on earth."

"Tona Vita" was introduced in this country by a number of physicians scarcely a year ago. The tonic has proved the biggest success of any medicine ever before sold to the public.

If you are debilitated and run down don't allow this miserable condition to last a day longer. Let Tona Vita build you up and bring back your health. If it fails you, money will be returned by our agent in your city.

Blackmer & Tanquary is the agent for Tona Vita in Washington, C. H. The Approved Formula Company, Dayton, Ohio.

VEGETABLES FACTOR IN SPREAD OF TYPHOID.

The possibility of the conveyance of typhoid germs by means of vegetables and fruits has long been suspected, and as a result of studies in recent years, evidence has been collected that such foodstuffs play an important part in the transmission of typhoid infection. Typhoid fever is a rural disease; typhoid fever patients are frequently found on farms where green vegetables are cultivated for market; and, in some localities at least, the practice is prevalent of using human excreta as fertilizer to force the growth of vegetables that are intended to be eaten raw.

To determine the factors responsible for the spread of typhoid fever, it is highly important to determine how long the typhoid germ can live under natural conditions. In recent years a number of investigators, working under different conditions, have recovered this organism from previously contaminated soil after varying periods up to fifty days, and Mair regained the organism after eighty-four days from soil inclosed by glass and moisture added. Since the longevity of the typhoid bacillus in unsterilized water ranges from seven to thirty days, it would seem that the soil might serve as a reservoir of infection to the stream which drains it.

The latest work on this subject is reported by Creel, who conducted experiments both within doors and in the open air, with exposure to rain and sunlight. The typhoid organism was carried up from the soil by the growing plants, and on repeated examination the organisms were recovered from the leaves and stems up to thirty-one days. A leaf of lettuce from an infected bed yielded positive cultures after three washings, thus indicating that rainfall will not free vegetables from infected material. These results have practical significance in view of the insanitary conditions on many farms. The demand for fresh vegetables being so great and the means of transportation so rapid, vegetables grown in one section may be shipped great distances and used by large numbers of persons. There is danger of the transmission of typhoid fever by this means. Medical authorities think that the inspection of truck farms would be advisable, and permits for the cultivation of vegetables for public sale might properly be withheld from all farms on which improper methods of fertilizing are practiced.

A NEW LEAF.

Whereas, Public sentiment, manifested in community co-operation, is an invincible force;

Whereas, Individual indifference forbids healthy public sentiment and when in control depresses and stifles;

Whereas, The community is the body of which individual citizens are members and the body can not be strong if the members be atrophied; and

Whereas, Without action life is impossible, death inevitably ensuing; therefore be it

Resolved, That, throughout this year, I shall believe in my fellow townsmen and have faith in my community and shall make known my belief and faith in season and out of season by all my public and private acts and utterances;

Whereas, All that I have and all that I can hope for in a material, moral and social way, are inseparably united with my community's fate; be it further and finally

Resolved, That I shall supplement my faith in my fellows and my belief in my community by giving freely of my time and my money in promoting my community's—therefore my own—interests.

Man Who Keeps on Smiling

By JANE L. RUSSELL

sun; and the sturdy cedars that thrive upon the cruel mountain tops—which came may be transported into unwonted luxury with no loss of hardihood. Just such a nature I would seek in the man I marry.

A man who has struggled through vicissitudes, having lost no whit of his smiling nature, who is strong enough to brave any storm of misfortune, keeping ever the beauty of his nature beyond destruction, who has attained a measure of success and who can live in it with no sacrifice of the virility of his manhood.

With such a man marriage would be contentment, and contentment to happiness.

Poetry—Today

TODAY.

Sure, this world is full of trouble—
I ain't said it ain't.
Lord! I've had enough, an' double,
Reason for complaint.
Rain an' storm have come to fret me,
Skies were often gray;
Thorns an' brambles have beset me
On the road—but, say,
Ain't it fine today!

What's the use of always weepin'
Makin' trouble last?
What's the use of always keepin'
Thinkin' of the past?
Each must have his tribulation,
Water with his wine.
Life it ain't no celebration
Trouble? I've had mine—
But today is fine.

It's today that I am livin',
Not a month ago,
Havin' losin', takin', givin',
As time wills it so.
Yesterday a cloud of sorrow
Fell across the way;
It may rain again tomorrow,
It may rain—but, say,
Ain't it fine today!

Ainsworth Subpoenaed

Will Be Asked to Testify Before House Army Committee.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Investigation of the war department as an outgrowth of the differences between the secretary of war and General Wood on one side and Former Adjutant General Ainsworth on the other, which culminated in the latter's retirement after a threatened court-martial, now practically is assured. General Ainsworth was subpoenaed to appear today before the house committee on expenditures in the war department. He was directed to produce papers of the department relating to the charges against Major B. B. Ray, but members of the committee admitted General Ainsworth would be asked about many other things and the entire administration of the war department would be probed.

LOST SLEEP TEN YEARS.

Any one who knows Mr. B. F. Sugg, of Tyler, N. C., will tell you that he speaks nothing but the truth. Mr. Sugg has suffered greatly from sleeplessness and in a recent letter says: "For ten years I have suffered greatly from a nervous ailment which caused me to lose at least three hours of needed sleep every night."

"I tried everything I could find to get relief, and finally one bottle of Vinol gave me more relief than all other remedies. I am grateful to Vinol for my present good health."

Many persons who are in a nervous, run-down condition get so they cannot sleep, and this is almost certain to wreck their health unless the right steps are taken.

Our delicious cod liver and iron remedy without oil, Vinol, builds up the body and nourishes the nerves with pure, rich blood, and makes it possible to get natural, restful sleep. We guarantee that Vinol will do you good (money back if it fails), and if you are weak, nervous and sleepless, you certainly should try Vinol.—Blackmer & Tanquary, Druggists, Washington, C. H., O.

Tona Vita Builds Up Run-Down People

PHYSICIANS HAVE GREAT SUCCESS WITH TONIC IN THIS COUNTRY.

When people of wealth become debilitated and run down in health they go to high priced sanitariums and health resorts to be built up again. But what about the thousands of debilitated nervous men and women with no vitality or ambition who have neither the time nor money to spare for such luxuries as sanitariums? If you are in this miserable condition read with care the following statement by M. F. Mann, living at 53 Good avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I have had indigestion and been all run down for ten years. I could not eat anything at times and was always constipated. My nerves were out of order and I had bad headaches. I believed I had kidney trouble, too, as I had dull pains in my back much of the time. I was easily excited and often when I couldn't eat and had a nervous attack I would suffer severe dizzy spells.

"I heard so much about the new tonic, 'Tona Vita' that I decided to give it a trial and I feel like a different man. I am strong in every way. I sleep well, can eat anything and my nerves are as steady as can be. I have gained four pounds in the last ten days. I believe 'Tona Vita' is the best medicine on earth."

"Tona Vita" was introduced in this country by a number of physicians scarcely a year ago. The tonic has proved the biggest success of any medicine ever before sold to the public.

If you are debilitated and run down don't allow this miserable condition to last a day longer. Let Tona Vita build you up and bring back your health. If it fails your money will be returned by our agent in your city.

Blackmer & Tanquary is the agent for Tona Vita in Washington, C. H. The Approved Formula Company, Dayton, Ohio.

Hamilton, O., Feb. 19.—John Lennahan, 9, held up a saloon here and, with a revolver, drove out a score of men after he had been refused a pitcher of beer.

While the boy stood with the revolver pointed at the crowd, a policeman stepped in from behind and captured the boy in his arms. Young Lennahan was taken to a police station, his pockets contained numerous wild west novels and magazines.

CHILDREN INJURED.

Ordinary Cathartics and Pills and Harsh Physic Cause Distressing Complaints.

You cannot be over-careful in the selection of medicine for children. Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given, except in emergency cases. Ordinary pills, cathartics and purgatives are apt to do more harm than good. They may cause griping, nausea and other distressing after-effects that are frequently health-destroying.

We personally recommend and guarantee Rexall Orderlies as the safest and most dependable remedy, which we know, for constipation and associate bowel disorders. We have such absolute faith in the virtues of this remedy that we sell it on our guarantee of money back in every instance where it fails to give entire satisfaction, and we urge all in need of such medicine to try it at our risk.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus over-coming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rexall Orderlies commonly completely relieve constipation, except of course when of a surgical character. They also tend to overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition. Three sizes of packages, 10 cents, 25 cents, and 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Washington C. Rexall Store, Blackmer & Tanquary.

The prisoner told the jailer that he was worth more tied to a post than he would be with the street-cleaning department.

MAN-EATING TIGERS Deputy Sheriff Oliver S. Nelson

Inhabitants of Corean-Manchu Border in Constant Terror.

Villages Visited Almost Daily by the Beasts and Absolutely Disregard the Efforts of the Poorly Armed Natives to Kill Them.

Vladivostok.—Travelers from the Corean-Manchu border bring startling tales of the activities of the Siberian tigers in that locality. According to an English writer, who just has returned from an extensive trip in that region, the natives live in a constant state of abject fear for their lives. Some of the villages are visited almost daily by tigers, who, with an absolute disregard of the efforts of the mildly combative natives and the dozen or two small spears and arrows that eventually, porcupine quill fashion, decorate their rough hides, smash in door doors and proceed to devour everybody in sight. Unable to get within striking distance of live prey these tigers will visit the graveyards. The natives of the smaller villages, with their primitive arms, being powerless against these man-eating beasts, big battues are organizing in Seoul and are sallying forth in an effort to rid the country of the "noxious vermin."

Hunting tigers along the Corean-Manchu border is not the child's play that trailing similar beasts in India has become. There is none of the difficulty and exasperation of having to deal with a small army of native hunters; for, unlike the jungle tiger of Bengal, who sleeps away the day and pounces by night on his prey at drinking places, the northern beast is at his fullest activity by day. Instead of having to steal, from the security of an elephant howdah, with a sleepy, surprised creature that covers, alarmed by the hunters, from the path of your ponderous mount, one is out to encounter a thoroughly well-awake brute, ravaging the open countryside; and you are, if you follow the Russian custom, afoot. One may rely on the element of sport being well to the fore.

Well, fed, well exercised, long, lithe, tawny and glossy, the Siberian tiger

is the finest wild beast alive. The further north one goes the better specimen of tiger one meets, till one comes eventually to the pink of perfection, the super-tiger, on the hinterland of Vladivostok. He is as physically superior to the Bengal tiger as the wildcat is to the domestic pussy cat.

A Bengal tiger—in fact, any sort of tiger in a mild climate—has a thin pelt; it is sufficiently warm for him. But in the cold climate, where there is constant exposure, as in the Oosorie, to a winter temperature of 29 degrees below zero, the fur becomes so luxuriant that you may plunge both hands out of sight in it. The Siberian tiger's pelt is worth nearly twice as much, commercially, as that of the Malay branch of the family.

A Siberian tigress runs to only about 250 pounds. The biggest Bengal tiger encountered rarely will exceed 400 pounds. The Siberian tiger, however, often runs to 550 pounds and even 600 pounds.

Unforgeable Banknotes.

Paris.—It is a remarkable tribute to the 100-franc ($20) banknote issued in 1910 by the Bank of France that the first attempt to forge one of them has only just been reported.

The notes are printed on back and front, are complicated and artistic in design, and in four colors—blue, pink, black and yellow. The paper is prepared with the greatest care, and every time a chemical discovery is made likely to hinder the work of a forger it is incorporated in the printing of the banknotes.

Since 1889 there have been only six attempts to forge the $20 note, three attempts to forge the 50-franc ($10) note, and one attempt to forge the 1,000-franc ($200) note. The Bank of France, unlike the Bank of England, does not destroy all banknotes when returned, but puts them into circulation several times. It is only after about three years' use that, tattered and torn, they are burned.

It's Your Duty to Get at the Cause and Remove It. A Word to the Wise, You Know.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, will positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system of impurities.

They do all that dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after-effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Olive Tablets without griping, pain or disagreeable effects of any kind.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Lecture Postponed Gov. Folk Detained

Governor Folk, scheduled to deliver a lecture in Grace church tonight under the auspices of the Washington Lecture Course, will not arrive and the lecture has been postponed indefinitely.

The committee received notice to this effect from Gov. Folk's managers, the Redpath Lyceum bureau, on Saturday night. A pressure of business and speaking arrangements combined to prevent the noted ex-governor of Missouri from reaching this city on schedule time, consequently the Redpath managers were forced to announce the postponement of the Washington lecture until such a time as Governor Folk can spare the time.

The local committee has been advised that Gov. Folk will be able to visit Grace church a little later on and that the hundreds of Washington people who are anticipating with pleasure an opportunity to hear this gifted orator, will not be disappointed.

TUDORS' WORK GOOD

Tunnels Built Centuries Ago Are Still in Existence.

Newly Discovered Underground Workings Built by Order of Cardinal Wolsey Are Found to Be in Perfect Condition.

That the Tudors were the best plumbers in the world is attested by the fact that a tunnel built four centuries ago by Cardinal Wolsey and through which water was conveyed from a spring by means of lead pipes is still in existence. It is not only in existence, but is in practically as good condition as when it was first constructed. What good building this means may be understood when it is noted that directly over the tunnel huge trees are growing—one of them with at least five tons of timber in it—but neither their roots nor their weight have made any impression at all upon its walls.

Not so eternal have been the means whereby Wolsey had the water conveyed from Kingston hill to Hampton court. After it had made its way through a succession of wells and reservoirs, which still retain the old lead and stone, the water was taken down the hill in broad lead pipes and so on to Hampton. But, alas! it could not be protected from rapacious hands after it had served the great cardinal's purpose, for lead has a value for other and more harmful things than the conveyance of spring water. So as soon as Hampton court ceased to depend for its drinking water upon the cardinal's spring people began to lay sacrilegious hands on the pipes. A considerable amount of the lead was, it is believed, melted down for ammunition during the civil war. The rest has been pilfered from time to time for various purposes, and some of it is said even now to be lying at the bottom of the Thames.

Both the old buildings and the spring itself are still almost as they were when the cardinal had completed his work of carrying the water in leaden pipes all the way from the top of Kingston hill to his new home. Hitherto few people save the personal friends of the present owner have known of the existence of these remnants of the great man's enterprise, but a wonderful glimpse into the past is to be obtained by any one privileged to open the fastidiously closed door of the tunnel and descend into the subterranean wonderland.

Lacked His Trick Bible.

New York.—How he fooled a jury and won his freedom with the aid of a Bible was told by George McAllister, eighteen years old, in general sessions, where he was arraigned before Judge Rosalesky for the second time in three months on the charge of burglary.

McAllister was tried last September, and as he ascended the witness stand in his own defense at that time he took a Bible from his pocket and asked that he might be sworn upon it, and not upon the court Bible. "Because it was given to me by mother, and she lived up to what it contains," he explained.

McAllister denied the charge of burglary, and the jury acquitted him. When McAllister again was arraigned, Assistant District Attorney Delehanty recognized him and asked: "Get your Bible with you today?" "Nope," replied McAllister. "They got me right this time. I plead guilty." He was remanded for sentence.

Yale Gets Three-Eyed Reptile.

New Haven, Conn.—Henry D. Baker, Yale, 1896, American consul in Hobart, Tasmania, who already has sent several collections to the Yale university museum, has added another collection of birds and reptiles almost entirely extinct on the globe. The collection was gathered in New Zealand. It includes a specimen of a wingless bird called the kiwi and of a reptile of the lizard type called a tuatara, remarkable as having a rudimentary third eye.

The museum soon is to mount a part of a dinosaur discovered by Prof. O. C. Marsh, and representing a reptile, which in life was probably 100 feet long. The fossil is much larger than corresponding parts of a dinosaur already partly mounted, which was sixty-seven feet long.

Columbus Woman Smothers Baby During Great Excitement.

Columbus, O., Feb. 19.—Recovery of the body of 5-year-old Edward Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Smith, who broke through the ice on the Scioto river Thursday afternoon and drowned, mingled joy with gladness but added further tragedy to the family sorrow.

Mr. Smith, the father, separated for two years from his wife, Bertha Smith, returned from Malta to the home residence, but Mrs. Clinton Daw, a distant relative, excited by the return of the body to the Smith home, where she mourned with the mother, clasped her own six-week-old baby so close to her breast that she smothered it.

Baker of Cleveland.

Spring Hill Sale Great Success

The Spring Hill sale of Duroc bred sows, held by Mr. Hugh K. Stewart, Saturday afternoon, on Market St., was pronounced by the auctioneer, Col. Igleheart, of Elizabethtown, Ky., to be the most successful sale he had cried during the entire winter.

It was a sale altogether out of the ordinary, the immunity guaranty and fine breeding of the hogs, making them eagerly desired and the whirlwind work of the auctioneer calling forth unheard of activity in the bidding. The entire offering of 54 head of immune bred sows and gilts was sold within two hours of the opening of the sale.

The highest price, $75, was paid by Mr. Ira Jackson, of Tippecanoe City, widely known hog breeder. The 54 head averaged $35.13.

There was a very large attendance of local hog breeders and farmers and also a number of foreign buyers, among the latter, Mr. Ira Jackson, Tippecanoe City; Mr. R. C. Watt, Cedarville; Mr. W. P. Penry, Radnor; Mr. E. K. Morris, Indianapolis, Ind.; Mr. F. L. Georges, Melvin; Dr. Herr, Elida, Ohio.

Col. Igleheart, the auctioneer, was assisted by Col. W. Irvin, of Herod, O., as ringmaster.

CHILDREN INJURED.

Ordinary Cathartics and Pills and Harsh Physic Cause Distressing Complaints.

You cannot be over-careful in the selection of medicine for children. Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given, except in emergency cases. Ordinary pills, cathartics and purgatives are apt to do more harm than good. They may cause griping, nausea and other distressing after-effects that are frequently health-destroying.

We personally recommend and guarantee Rehall Orderlies as the safest and most dependable remedy, which we know, for constipation and all other bowel disorders. We have such absolute faith in the virtues of this remedy that we sell it on our guarantee of money back in every instance where it fails to give entire satisfaction, and we urge all in need of such medicine to try it at our risk.

Rehall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause drowsiness, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus over-coming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rehall Orderlies commonly completely relieve constipation, except of course when of a surgical character. They also tend to overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition. Three sizes of packages, 10 cents, 25 cents, and 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain Rehall Remedies in Washington, D. C. only at our store.—The Rehall Store, Blackmer & Tanquary.

Washington, Feb. 19.—The weather bureau issued the following weekly bulletin:

The distribution of atmospheric pressure as shown by the weather map of the northern hemisphere is such as to indicate a continuation of moderate temperatures throughout the country during the present week, although it is probable that colder weather will appear in the northwest the latter part of the week.

The next general storm to cross the country will prevail in the north Pacific states tomorrow or Wednesday, the middle west about Thursday and the east Friday; the precipitation attending this disturbance will be mostly rain, although snow is likely in northern states east of the Rocky mountains.

NEW USE FOR VAGRANTS.

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 19.—James O'Connell stood chained to a post in the public square after he had refused to work with a street-cleaning gang. He was under sentence for vagrancy. O'Connell's predicament won sympathy from many persons and when he was taken back to jail donations amounting to $2.29 were found in his pockets. The prisoner told the jailer that he was worth more tied to a post than he would be with the street-cleaning department.

Kentuckian Kills Rival.
Bowling Green, Ky., Feb. 19.—In a fit of jealousy, Marion Crockett, it is alleged, set off a bomb under the cottage of his sweetheart and then snatched George Williams, a rival, to death as the latter ran from the home seeking safety. The house was almost demolished. The girl, Florence Dinsley, was placed under arrest with Crockett, but was later released.

Editor Has Big Funeral.

MAN-EATING TIGERS

Inhabitants of Korean-Manchu Border in Constant Terror.

Villages Visited Almost Daily by the Beasts and Absolutely Disregard the Efforts of the Poorly Armed Natives to Kill Them.

Vladivostok.—Travelers from the Korean-Manchu border bring startling tales of the activities of the Siberian tigers in that locality. According to an English writer, who just has returned from an extensive trip in that region, the natives live in a constant state of abject fear for their lives. Some of the villages are visited almost daily by tigers, who, with an absolute disregard of the efforts of the mildly combative natives and the dozen or two small spears and arrows that eventually, porcupine quill fashion, decorate their rough hides, smash in hut doors and proceed to devour everybody in sight. Unable to get within striking distance of live prey these tigers will visit the graveyards. The natives of the smaller villages, with their primitive arms, being powerless against these man-eating beasts, big battues are organizing in Seoul and are sailing forth in an effort to rid the country of the "noxious vermin."

Hunting tigers along the Korean-Manchu border is not the child's play that trailing similar beasts in India has become. There is none of the difficulty and exasperation of having to deal with a small army of native hunters; for, unlike the jungle tiger of Bengal, who sleeps away the day and pounces by night on his prey at drinking places, the northern beast is at his fullest activity by day. Instead of having to steal, from the security of an elephant howdah, with a sleepy, surprised creature that cowers, alarmed by the hunters, from the path of your ponderous mount, one is out to encounter a thoroughly well-awake brute, ravaging the open countryside; and you are, if you follow the Russian custom, afoot. One may rely on the element of sport being well to the fore.

Well, fed, well exercised, long, lithe, tawny and glossy, the Siberian tiger

A Siberian Tiger.

Is the finest wild beast alive. The further north one goes the better specimen of tiger one meets, till one comes eventually to the pink of perfection, the super-tiger, on the hinterland of Vladivostok. He is as physically superior to the Bengal tiger as the wildest is to the domestic pussy cat.

A Bengal tiger—in fact, any sort of tiger in a mild climate—has a thin pelt; it is sufficiently warm for him. But in the cold climate, where there is constant exposure, as in the Oosorie, to a winter temperature of 20 degrees below zero, the fur becomes so luxuriant that you may plunge both hands out of sight in it. The Siberian tiger's pelt is worth nearly twice as much, commercially, as that of the Malay branch of the family.

A Siberian tigress runs to only about 250 pounds. The biggest Bengal tiger encountered rarely will exceed 400 pounds. The Siberian tiger, however, often runs to 550 pounds and even 600 pounds.

Unforgeable Banknotes.

Paris.—It is a remarkable tribute to the 100-franc ($20) banknote issued in 1910 by the Bank of France that the first attempt to forge one of them has only just been reported.

The notes are printed on back and front, are complicated and artistic in design, and in four colors—blue, pink, black and yellow. The paper is prepared with the greatest care, and every time a chemical discovery is made likely to hinder the work of a forger it is incorporated in the printing of the banknotes.

Since 1889 there have been only six attempts to forge the $20 note, three attempts to forge the 50-franc ($10) note, and one attempt to forge the 1,000-franc ($200) note. The Bank of France, unlike the Bank of England, does not destroy all banknotes when returned, but puts them into circulation several times. It is only after about three years' use that, tattered and torn, they are burned.

BAD BREATH

It's Your Duty to Get at the Cause and Remove It. A Word to the Wise, You Know.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, will positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system of impurities.

They do all that dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after-effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Olive Tablets without griping, pain or disagreeable effects of any kind.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Olive tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Try Olive Tablets today. Take one every night for a week and note the effect.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

Lecture Postponed Gov. Folk Detained

Governor Folk, scheduled to deliver a lecture in Grace church tonight under the auspices of the Washington Lecture Course, will not arrive and the lecture has been postponed indefinitely.

The committee received notice to this effect from Gov. Folk's managers, the Redpath Lyceum bureau, on Saturday night. A pressure of business and speaking arrangements combined to prevent the noted ex-governor of Missouri from reaching this city on schedule time, consequently the Redpath managers were forced to announce the postponement of the Washington lecture until such a time as Governor Folk can spare the time.

The local committee has been advised that Gov. Folk will be able to visit Grace church a little later on and that the hundreds of Washington people who are anticipating with pleasure an opportunity to hear this gifted orator, will not be disappointed.

TUDORS' WORK GOOD

Tunnels Built Centuries Ago Are Still in Existence.

Newly Discovered Underground Workings Built by Order of Cardinal Wolsey Are Found to Be in Perfect Condition.

That the Tudors were the best plumbers in the world is attested by the fact that a tunnel built four centuries ago by Cardinal Wolsey and through which water was conveyed from a spring by means of lead pipes is still in existence. It is not only in existence, but is in practically as good condition as when it was first constructed. What good building this means may be understood when it is noted that directly over the tunnel huge trees are growing—one of them with at least five tons of timber in it—but neither their roots nor their weight have made any impression at all upon its walls.

Not so eternal have been the means whereby Wolsey had the water conveyed from Kingston hill to Hampton court. After it had made its way through a succession of wells and reservoirs, which still retain the old lead and stone, the water was taken down the hill in broad lead pipes and so on to Hampton. But, alas! it could not be protected from rapacious hands after it had served the great cardinal's purpose, for lead has a value for other and more harmful things than the conveyance of spring water. So as soon as Hampton court ceased to depend for its drinking water upon the cardinal's spring people began to lay sacrilegious hands on the pipes. A considerable amount of the lead was, it is believed, melted down for ammunition during the civil war. The rest has been pilfered from time to time for various purposes, and some of it is said even now to be lying at the bottom of the Thames.

Both the old buildings and the spring itself are still almost as they were when the cardinal had completed his work of carrying the water in leaden pipes all the way from the top of Kingston hill to his new home. Hitherto few people save the personal friends of the present owner have known of the existence of these remnants of the great man's enterprise, but a wonderful glimpse into the past is to be obtained by any one privileged to open the fast-shut door of the tunnel and descend into the subterranean wonderland.

Lacked His Trick Bible.

New York.—How he fooled a jury and won his freedom with the aid of a Bible was told by George McAllister, eighteen years old, in general sessions, where he was arraigned before Judge Rosalesky for the second time in three months on the charge of burglary.

McAllister was tried last September, and as he ascended the witness stand in his own defense at that time he took a Bible from his pocket and asked that he might be sworn upon it, and not upon the court Bible. "Because it was given to me by mother, and she lived up to what it contains," he explained.

McAllister denied the charge of burglary, and the jury acquitted him.

When McAllister again was arraigned, Assistant District Attorney Delehanty recognized him and asked: "Got your Bible with you today?" "Nope," replied McAllister. "They got me right this time, I plead guilty." He was remanded for sentence.

Yale Gets Three-Eyed Reptile.

New Haven, Conn.—Henry D. Baker, Yale, 1896, American consul in Hobart, Tasmania, who already has sent several collections to the Yale university museum, has added another collection of birds and reptiles almost entirely extinct on the globe. The collection was gathered in New Zealand. It includes a specimen of a wingless lizard called the kiwi and of a reptile of the lizard type called a tuatara, remarkable as having a rudimentary third eye.

The museum soon is to mount a part of a dinosaur discovered by Prof. O. C. Marsh, and representing a reptile, which in life was probably 100 feet long. The fossil is much larger than corresponding parts of a dinosaur already partly mounted, which was sixty-seven feet long.

Columbus Woman Smothers Baby During Great Excitement.

Columbus, O., Feb. 19.—Recovery of the body of 5-year-old Edward Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Smith, who broke through the ice on the Scioto river Thursday afternoon and drowned, mingled joy with gladness but added further tragedy to the family sorrow.

Mr. Smith, the father, separated for two years from his wife, Bertha Smith, returned from Malta to the home residence, but Mrs. Clinton Daw, a distant relative, excited by the return of the body to the Smith home, where she mourned with the mother, clasped her own six-week-old baby so close to her breast that she smothered it.

Spees had been ordered out of the house by his landlord for failure to pay the rent. The furniture was heavily insured.

Explains Convention Speech.

Columbus, O., Feb. 19.—That he violated no expressed or implied pledge of his platform when in his address to the constitutional convention he advised that it might be well to await a trial of the initiative and referendum in the municipalities of Ohio before giving it statewide trial, is the gist of a statement given out by Governor Harmon in answer to Mayor Newton D. Baker of Cleveland.

Spring Hill Sale Great Success

The Spring Hill sale of Duroc bred sows, held by Mr. Hugh K. Stewart, Saturday afternoon, on Market St., was pronounced by the auctioneer, Col. Igleheart, of Elizabethtown, Ky., to be the most successful sale he had cried during the entire winter.

It was a sale altogether out of the ordinary, the insured guaranty and fine breeding of the hogs, making them eagerly desired and the whirlwind work of the auctioneer calling forth unheard of activity in the bidding. The entire offering of 54 head of insured bred sows and gilts were sold within two hours of the opening of the sale.

The highest price, $75, was paid by Mr. Ira Jackson, of Tippecanoe City, widely known hog breeder. The 54 head averaged $35.13.

There was a very large attendance of local hog breeders and farmers and also a number of foreign buyers, among the latter, Mr. Ira Jackson, Tippecanoe City; Mr. R. C. Watt, Cedarville; Mr. W. P. Peury, Radnor; Mr. E. K. Morris, Indianapolis, Ind.; Mr. F. J. Georges, Melvin; Dr. Herr, Elida, Ohio.

HANDSOME NEW K. OF P. CASTLE DEDICATED BY GRAND LODGE OFFICERS

Magnificent New Home of Confidence Lodge No. 265 Thrown Open to the Public.

Large Assemblage From All Over the County for Impressive Dedicatory Ceremonies.

A stately building of brick and stone, rising to give transcendent honor to Confidence lodge, K. of P. No. 265, and to add adornment and prestige to Washington C. H., the magnificent new Pythian Castle, on Fayette street, was dedicated today and thrown open for its first public inspection.

Not alone in handsome facade and in beauty of interior decoration, but in its impression of stability does the new Pythian castle establish fresh records for enthusiasm. Through decades to come it will proclaim the sterling worth of the order and the generous expenditure of time and effort that was embodied in its erection.

It was pre-eminently fitting that the dedication should take place on the anniversary day of the establishing of the order. Work has been pushed and every effort made for its completion at this time.

the castle the committee has given largely of time and taste. Past Chancellor Commander Henry Smith has also devoted constant attention to the building.

The new castle was launched under the regime of O. E. Hardway, Chancellor Commander. Mr. Smith succeeding him, and is dedicated under the present chancellor commander, John Combs, who came in a fortnight ago.

From one o'clock until two a constant stream of people poured into the castle for the dedication ceremonies. In addition to Grand Lodge officers, several hundred of the members of the order, their wives and families there were hundreds of outside visitors from all over the country.

Promptly at two o'clock the Grand Lodge officers who had assembled in the preparation room and were wearing the jewels of their respective offices, took their places in Castle hall and conducted the dedicatory ceremonies, which ended in the Grand Master at Arms proclaiming that Castle hall was duly dedicated to Pythian uses.

The dedication ritual was impressively conducted by the Grand Lodge officers, Grand Chancellor of Ohio Spencer Wallace, of Steubenville; Grand Vice-Chancellor J. H. Culhan, Grand Prelate, H. D. Chaffin; Grand Master at Arms, Wm. Schuckhardt, of Cincinnati; Grand Keeper of Records and Seals, H. M. Kingsbury; Grand Inner Guard, Joseph Kingsbury, of Columbus; Grand Outer Guard, Chas. B. Parker; G. K. of P. and S., Wm. Beatty, of Toledo, the idol of the order, was unavoidably detained by the critical illness of his daughter.

Following the dedication, which is in process as the Herald goes to press, there will be a general reception to the public and supper served at five o'clock.

Tonight the first initiation and banquet will be held.

Hartm n Theater

Julian Eltinge, famous for his feminine characterizations, will play a return engagement in this city of "The Fascinating Widow" at the Hartman theater on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, February 26, 27, and 28th, with a Wednesday matinee. His first introduction to the audience is that of an athletic college boy who is in love with Margaret Leffingwell, the daughter of the matron of the girl's section of the co-educational institution. As Hal Blake he is in love with the young lady, but Margaret's mother prefers another young man named Oswald Wentworth, one of the sort who has a rich father who keeps his brainless son well supplied with money. Oswald is inclined to do a great deal of unnecessary talking and incurs the enmity of Hal and his friends, who proceed to put him out of the running so far as winning Margaret's hand is concerned. Blake and Wentworth have an argument and come to blows, in which the latter gets decidedly the worst of it. For fear of arrest, Hal assumes the disguise of a woman. This causes much fun and many side-splitting complications. As Mrs. Monte, the fascinating widow, Eltinge makes every one he comes in contact with like him. His principal object in the guise of a woman is to show up his rival in his true colors and this he does so well that the chap who is really engaged to Margaret Leffingwell throws her over and proposes to Mrs. Monte.

Real Estate Paying Much Heavier Tax

From figures compiled by County Auditor Henkle it develops that Fayette county lands are now paying a total of 77 per cent. of the total taxes. The recent appraisal has raised the value of real estate three times over the 1910 valuations, while personal property was increased only 1 2-5 times over the same valuation. As a result real property taxpayers of this county have found their taxes higher under the new tax laws than before.

This condition it is expected will gradually change as larger returns are secured on personal property and higher valuations are made on all public corporations, etc.

Members of the Constitutional convention, now in session at Columbus, are gathering figures of this character throughout the state, and it is intimated that the showing will have a great bearing for rebuilding the highways of the state.

Julian Eltinge, famous for his feminine characterizations, will play a return engagement in this city of "The Fascinating Widow" at the Hartman theater on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, February 26, 27, and 28th, with a Wednesday matinee. His first introduction to the audience is that of an athletic college boy who is in love with Margaret Leffingwell, the daughter of the matron of the girl's section of the co-educational institution. As Hal Blake he is in love with the young lady, but Margaret's mother prefers another young man named Oswald Wentworth, one of the sort who has a rich father who keeps his brainless son well supplied with money. Oswald is inclined to do a great deal of unnecessary talking and incurs the enmity of Hal and his friends, who proceed to put him out of the running so far as winning Margaret's hand is concerned. Blake and Wentworth have an argument and come to blows, in which the latter gets decidedly the worst of it. For fear of arrest, Hal assumes the disguise of a woman. This causes much fun and many side-splitting complications. As Mrs. Monte, the fascinating widow, Eltinge makes every one he comes in contact with like him. His principal object in the guise of a woman is to show up his rival in his true colors and this he does so well that the chap who is really engaged to Margaret Leffingwell throws her over and proposes to Mrs. Monte.

Real Estate Paying Much Heavier Tax

From figures compiled by County Auditor Henkle it develops that Fayette county lands are now paying a total of 77 per cent. of the total taxes. The recent appraisal has raised the value of real estate three times over the 1910 valuations, while personal property was increased only 1 2-5 times over the same valuation. As a result real property taxpayers of this county have found their taxes higher under the new tax laws than before.

This condition it is expected will gradually change as larger returns are secured on personal property and higher valuations are made on all public corporations, etc.

Members of the Constitutional convention, now in session at Columbus, are gathering figures of this character throughout the state, and it is intimated that the showing will have a great bearing for rebuilding the highways of the state.

Rankin Arrested, Denies Robbery of Octa Store

As a sequel to the bold daylight robbery last Friday afternoon, in which a bag containing $150 was stolen from behind the counter in the store of I. W. Murphy, at Octa, Homer C. Rankin was arrested Saturday night.

Mr. Murphy had the bag of money concealed under his counter near the money drawer. For a moment he was obliged to leave the store room to fill an order for a customer, and upon his return he found the money bag missing.

Rankin was taken into custody Saturday evening, charged with the crime. He was given a preliminary hearing before Justice Luttrell Saturday evening and entered a plea of not guilty.

The trial was set for Wednesday.

TYPICAL "BOBBY" OF DELHI

One of the Indian Policemen Who Assisted in the Enthusiastic Reception of King and Queen.

Delhi, India.—No more enthusiastic reception could be desired than that accorded King George of England in his recent visit to his Indian empire, where he was crowned Emperor with true oriental splendor at Delhi.

When his entry into this historic city was made 101 guns belched forth their salute to the King-Emperor and had been proclaimed and the spirit of festivity and rejoicing extended over the great empire, with its teeming population of 232,000,000 souls.

In providing guards of honor for the royal couple no distinction was made between native troops and soldiers from Great Britain. The entire army of occupation consists of 234,000 men, more than 156,000 of whom are natives. While dark hints as to their loyalty have been thrown out for several years, there was no suggestion of lack of loyalty in the great displays that marked the durbar, and the crowning of an English King as Emperor in India will tend to cement the bonds of allegiance between the Oriental empire and Great Britain.

SYMBOLISM.

Client—Why is justice represented with a bandage over her brow?
Lawyer—There is a classical reason for it, but to my mind it serves chiefly to impress the frequency with which justice gets a black eye.

No Wonder.

A cheerful grin
Just can't wear.

Her View.

"The woman seems extremely proud of her husband's official importance," said Mrs. Votey Gumm.
"Yes," replied Mrs. Baring Bannan, "she regards his election to office as a tribute to her influence in politics."

had been proclaimed and the spirit of festivity and rejoicing extended over the great empire, with its teeming population of 232,000,000 souls.

In providing guards of honor for the royal couple no distinction was made between native troops and soldiers from Great Britain. The entire army of occupation consists of 234,000 men, more than 150,000 of whom are natives. While dark hints as to their loyalty have been thrown out for several years, there was no suggestion of lack of fealty in the great displays that marked the durbars, and the crowning of an English King as Emperor in India will tend to cement the bonds of allegiance between the Oriental empire and Great Britain.

Tom Ware was seated alone over his breakfast. He had left his bed as the pale morning light crept across the great fields that were alike his pride and his despair—what was the use of trying to sleep when sleep was an impossibility? He was about to quit the table when big Steve entered the room to say there was a white fellow at the door.

"Fetch him along in here," said Ware.

The white fellow delivered a pencilled note from Murrell. When he was gone, the planter ordered his horse.

As Ware rode away from Belle Plain he cursed Murrell under his breath. His own inclination toward evil was never robust; he could have connived over a long period of years to despoil Betty of her property, but murder and abduction was quite another thing.

Three miles from Belle Plain he entered a bridge path that led toward the river. A growth of small timber was standing along the water's edge, but as he drew nearer, those betterments which the resident of that lonely spot had seen fit to make for his own convenience, came under his scrutiny; these consisted of a log cabin and several lesser sheds.

Landing, he advanced toward the cabin. As he did so he saw two women at work heaving flax under an open shed. They were the wife and daughter of George Hicks, his over-seeer's brother.

"Morning, Mrs. Hicks," he said, addressing himself to the mother, a hulking ruffian of a woman. "Anybody with the captain?"

"Colonel Fentress is."

"Humph!" muttered Ware. He moved to the door of the cabin and entered the room where Murrell and Fentress were seated facing each other across the breakfast table.

"Well, what the devil do you want of me, anyhow?" demanded the planter.

"How's your sister, Tom?" inquired Murrell.

"I reckon she's the way you'd expect her to be." Ware dropped his voice to a whisper.

"John, you'll ruin yourself with your damned crazy infatuation!" It was Fentress who spoke.

"No, I won't, colonel, but I'm not going to discuss that. All I want is for Tom to go to Memphis and stay there for a couple of days. When he

"I shall take only picked men with me—I can't give ship room to any other—but I want you. You'll join me in New Orleans?" said Murrell.

CHAPTER XVII.

The Judge Extends His Credit.

That afternoon Judge Price walked out to Belle Plain. Solomon Mahaffy had known that this was a civility Betty Malroy could by no means escape. He had been conscious of the judge's purpose from the moment it existed in the germ state, and he had striven to divert him, but his striving had been in vain, for though the judge valued Mr. Mahaffy because of certain sterling qualities which he professed to discern beneath the hard crust that made up the external man, he was not disposed to accept him as his mentor in nice matters of taste and gentlemanly feeling. He owed it to himself personally to tender his sympathy. Miss Malroy must have heard something of the honorable part he had played; surely she could not be in ignorance of the fact that the lawless element, dreading his further activities, had threatened him. She must know, too, about that reward of five thousand dollars. Certainly her grief could not blind her to the fact that he had met the situation with a largeness of public spirit that was an impressive lesson to the entire community.

These were all points over which he and Mahaffy had wrangled, and he felt that his friend, in seeking to keep him away from Belle Plain, was standing squarely in his light. He really could not understand Solomon or his objections. He pointed out that Norton had probably left a will—no one knew yet—probably his estate would go to his intended wife—what more likely? He understood Norton had cousins somewhere in middle Tennessee—there was the attractive possibility of extended litigation. Miss Malroy needed a strong, clear brain to guide her past those difficulties his agile fancy assembled in her path. He beamed on his friend with a wide sunny smile.

"You mean she needs a lawyer, Price?" inquired Mahaffy.

"That slap at me, Solomon, is unworthy of you. Just name some one, will you, who has shown an interest comparable to mine? I may say I have devoted my entire energy to her affairs, and with disinterestedness, I have made myself felt. Will you mention who else these cutthroats have tried to browbeat and frighten? They know that my theories and conclusions are a menace to them! I got 'em in a panic, sir—presently some fellow will lose his nerve and light out for the tall timber—and it will be just Judge Slocum Price who's done the trick—no one else!"

"Are you looking for some one to take a pot shot at you?" inquired Mahaffy, sourly.

"Your remark uncovers my fondest hope, Solomon—I'd give five years of my life just to be shot at—that would round out the episode of the letter nicely," again the judge beamed on Mahaffy with that wide and sunny smile of his.

"Why don't you let the boy go alone, Price?" suggested Mahaffy. He lacked that sense of sublime confidence in the judge's tact and discretion of which the judge, himself, entertained never a doubt.

"I shall not obtrude myself, Solomon; I shall merely walk out to Belle Plain and leave a civil message. I know what's due Miss Malroy in her bereaved state—she has sustained no ordinary loss, and in no ordinary fashion. She has been the center of a striking and profoundly moving tragedy! I would give a good deal to know if my late client left a will!"

"You might ask her," said Mahaffy cynically. "Nothing like going to headquarters for the news!"

"Solomon, Solomon, give me credit for common sense—go further, and give me credit for common decency! Don't let us forget that ever since we came here she has manifested a charmingly hospitable spirit where we are concerned!"

"Wouldn't charity hit nearer the mark, Price?"

"I have never so regarded it, Solomon," said the judge mildly. "I have read a different meaning in the beef and flour and potatoes she's sent here. I expect if the truth could be known to us she is wondering in the midst of her grief why I haven't called, but she'll appreciate the considerate delicacy of a gentleman. I wish it were possible to get cut flowers in this cursed wilderness!"

The judge had been occupied with a simple but ingenious toilet. He had trimmed the frayed skirts of his coat; then, by turning his cuffs inside out and upside down a fresh surface made its first public appearance. Next his shoes had engaged his attention. They might have well discouraged a less resolute and resourceful character, but with the contents of his ink-well he artfully colored his white yarn socks where they showed through the rifts in the leather. This the judge did gaily, now humming a snatch of song, now listening civilly to Mahaffy, now replying with undisturbed cheerfulness. Last of all he clapped his dingy beaver on his head, giving it an indescribably jaunty slant, and stepped to the door.

"Well, wish me luck, Solomon. I'm off—come, Hannibal!" he said.

At heart he cherished small hope of seeing Betty, advantageous as he felt an interview might prove. However, on reaching Belle Plain, he and Hannibal were shown into the cool parlor by little Steve. It was more years than the judge cared to remember since he had put his foot inside such a house, but with true grandeur of soul he rose to the occasion; a sublimated dignity shone from every battered feature, while he fixed little Steve with so fierce a glance that the grin froze on his lips.

"You are to say that Judge Slocum Price presents his compliments and condolences to Miss Malroy—have you got that straight, you pinch of snoot?" he concluded affably. Little Steve, impressed alike by the judge's air of condescension and his easy flow of words, signified that he had. "You may also say that Judge Price's ward, young Master Hazard, presents his compliments and condolences—" What more the judge might have said was interrupted by the entrance of Betty, herself.

"My dear young lady—" the judge bowed, then he advanced toward her with the solemnity of carriage and countenance he deemed suitable to the occasion, and her extended hand was engulfed between his two plump palms. He rolled his eyes heavenward. "It's the Lord's to deal with us as his own inscrutable wisdom dictates," he murmured with pious resignation. "We are all poorer, ma'am, that he has died—just as we were richer while he lived!" The rich cadence of the judge's speech fell sonorously on the silence, and that look of horror which had never quite left Betty's eyes since they saw Charley Norton fall, rose out of their clear depths again. The judge, instantly stricken with a sense of the inadequacy of his words, doubled on his spiritual tracks. "In a roundabout way, ma'am, we're bound to believe in the omnipresence of Providence—we must think it—though a body might be disposed to hold that west Tennessee had got out of the line of divine supervision recently. Let me lead you to a chair, ma'am!"

Hannibal had slipped to Betty's side and placed his hand in hers. The judge regarded the pair with great benevolence of expression.

"He would come, and I hadn't the heart to forbid it. If I can be of any service to you, ma'am either in the capacity of a friend—or professional—I trust you will not hesitate to command me—" The judge backed toward the door.

"Did you walk out, Judge Price?" asked Betty kindly.

"Nothing more than a healthful exercise—but we will not detain you, ma'am; the pleasure of seeing you is something we had not reckoned on!" The judge's speech was thick and unctuous with good feeling. He wished that Mahaffy might have been there to note the reserve and dignity of his deportment.

"But you must let me order luncheon for you," said Betty. At least this questionable old man was good to Hannibal.

"I couldn't think of it, ma'am—" "You'll have a glass of wine, then," urged Betty hospitably. For the moment she had lost sight of what was clearly the judge's besetting sin.

NOTES of SPORTDOM

Louisville sees Jimmy Doyle coming back to the Colonels if Eddie Lennox makes good with the Cubs.

Jack Warner, the former Giant catcher, has applied to the United States league for a position as umpire.

Paul Cobb likes Lincoln so well that after a short visit to his home in Royston, Ga., he has returned to the Western League city to spend the winter.

Paul Sentell, who played short for Chattanooga last season, will be used at second next year, if he decides to play. He has, however, returned his contract unassigned.

Ducky (William) Holmes having been squared into organized ball again may have his choice of several jobs as manager. Lincoln suits him, but Victoria also looks good.

Rudy Hulswitt, who is with his old love, Columbus, will play second base next season. He showed in his work with Louisville last season that he has class at that position.

Manager Gray of the Lowell team has signed for a tryout a first baseman named Herbert Lindsay, hailing from Newington, Conn., who stands 6 feet and 6 inches.

DERBY LEADS BRITISH TURF

King George Heads List by Courtesy, but His Triumphs Were Few and of Little Importance.

The official list of this year's winning owners on the English turf has just been received at New York. King George heads the list by courtesy, but his triumphs were few and unimportant and interesting only in that they mark a fresh area of royal support of the British national sport.

Lord Derby after a close fight with J. B. Joel forged ahead near the close of the season, and his $215,000 is the highest total recorded in many years. Joel comes next with $175,000, while Mr. Fairlie, who headed the list in 1910 with $175,000, goes down to about one-quarter of that amount through the lack of a Bayardo and the Eclipse of Lemberg.

Among the American owners James R. Keene leads with $28,000, while Harry Payne Whitney has $25,000 to his credit. This is a big drop from last year, when his winnings totaled about $70,000.

Sunrise, with twelve winners and $165,000 in money, leads the winning sires. Danny Maher, the American rider, loses the riding championship after an unbroken tenure since 1904, and for the first time also in this period he missed his hundred winning mounts, reaching ninety-nine. Frank heads the jockey tables, riding 187 winners out of 747 mounts.

Jack Warner, the former Giant catcher, has applied to the United States league for a position as umpire.

Paul Cobb likes Lincoln so well that after a short visit to his home in Royston, Ga., he has returned to the Western League city to spend the winter.

Paul Sentell, who played short for Chattanooga last season, will be used at second next year, if he decides to play. He has, however, returned his contract unassigned.

Ducky (William) Holmes having been squared into organized ball again may have his choice of several jobs as manager. Lincoln suits him, but Victoria also looks good.

Rudy Hulswit, who is with his old love, Columbus, will play second base next season. He showed in his work with Louisville last season that he has class at that position.

Manager Gray of the Lowell team has signed for a tryout a first baseman named Herbert Lindsay, hailing from Newington, Conn., who stands 6 feet and 6 inches.

DERBY LEADS BRITISH TURF

King George Heads List by Courtesy, but His Triumphs Were Few and of Little Importance.

The official list of this year's winning owners on the English turf has just been received at New York. King George heads the list by courtesy, but his triumphs were few and unimportant and interesting only in that they mark a fresh area of royal support of the British national sport.

Lord Derby after a close fight with J. B. Joel forged ahead near the close of the season, and his $215,000 is the highest total recorded in many years. Joel comes next with $175,000, while Mr. Fairie, who headed the list in 1910 with $175,000, goes down to about one-quarter of that amount through the lack of a Bayardo and the Eclipse of Lemberg.

Among the American owners James R. Keene leads with $28,000, while Harry Payne Whitney has $25,000 to his credit. This is a big drop from last year, when his winnings totaled about $70,000.

Sunrise, with twelve winners and $165,000 in money, leads the winning sires. Danny Maher, the American rider, loses the riding championship after an unbroken tenure since 1904, and for the first time also in this period he missed his hundred winning mounts, reaching ninety-nine. Frank heads the jockey tables, riding 187 winners out of 747 mounts.
